Classical Liberalism And International Relations

Liberalism is a school of thought within international relations theory which can be thought to revolve around three interrelated principles: . Rejection of power politics as the only possible outcome of international relations; it questions security/warfare principles of realism; It accentuates mutual benefits and international cooperation; It implements international organizations and ...

Liberalism (international relations) - Wikipedia

Classical liberalism is a political ideology and a branch of liberalism which advocates civil liberties under the rule of law with an emphasis on economic freedom. Closely related to economic liberalism, it developed in the early 19th century, building on ideas from the previous century as a response to urbanisation and to the Industrial Revolution in Europe and the United States.
